The project consists of the complete renovation of the former Sheraton Hotel located on Place Rogier. It is the largest hotel in Brussels with 522 rooms. The renovation takes place in 2 phases: the first one is the renovation of the rooms and the corridors and the second one is the recreation of the common spaces of the hotel. We must not forget the initial phase which consisted of removing asbestos from the building.

Our mission is a mission of project management covering all aspects from the optimization of the project, the processing of the planning permission procedure, the coordination of the design offices, the coordination of the works until their reception by ensuring the role of conductor throughout the project..
